

Aging Studies and Age Studies eNews, [20 April 2013]

Dear Aging Studies and Age Studies Scholars:

This e-mail contains 5 sections:

1. Posting to the listserv
2. CFPs, Awards, and Funding: all future listings are retained; new items are in bold
3. Conferences, Events, and Webinars: all future listings are retained; new items are in bold
4. Articles, Blogposts, and Reports
5. Jobs

1. Posting to the listserv

All subscribers may post directly to the listserv by sending the item to enews@agingstudies.org. This is a moderated listserv, so there will be a slight delay between when you send an email and when it goes to the listserv. Non-subscribers who have items to share may send them to the listserv moderator: leni@agingstudies.org.

2. CFPs, Awards, and Funding: all future listings are retained; (new items are in bold)

30 Apr. 2013. "Transfers Across Generations: Wealth and Poverty," 2-3 Oct 2013, Prague. The purpose of this two-day 'Ideas Event' is to provide a free thinking discussion forum to create and develop innovative research ideas and collaborations. The 2 day event is free to attend and supported by funds from the ESRC. Participants will have to cover their own travel and accommodation costs. <http://integratenet.st-andrews.ac.uk/>

1 May 2013. Gerontological Society of America award nominations due. <http://www.geron.org/Membership/Awards>

1 May 2013. Lasting Stars: Personas that Endure and Images that Fade. University of Pennsylvania invites proposals for chapters that investigate specific film star images through theoretical, cultural and historical means, analyzing the relationship between film stardom and longevity or lack thereof. They are also interested in essays that examine how audience, culture and production trends can impact on the persistence of stardom. In addition, essays focused on images (film posters, publicity stills, paparazzi pictures) forming an integral part of enduring or fading stardom are particularly welcome, as are submissions that look beyond Hollywood. <http://call-for-papers.sas.upenn.edu/node/49856>

1 May 2013. Call for Award Nominations: 2013 Florence L. Denmark Award for Contributions to Women and Aging. The Society for the Psychology of Women seeks nominations for Division 35's Committee on Women and Aging Dr. Florence L. Denmark Award for Contributions to Women and Aging. Its purpose is to recognize scholarly or public policy accomplishments, or both, in the area of women and aging. Nominations should include a letter of nomination, a 500-word statement describing the nominee's contributions to scholarship or public policy, or both, on women and aging, and the nominee's current CV. The nomination may also include letters of support. Self-nominations are acceptable. Please submit via e-mail as Word or PDF attachments to Jamila Bookwala, Ph.D., <bookwalj@lafayette.edu <<mailto:bookwalj@lafayette.edu>> >

30 May 2013. Femspec, an interdisciplinary journal dedicated to challenging gender through speculative means in any genre, invites papers for a special issue of Femspec, Aging and Gender in Speculative Fiction, examining speculative fiction books, TV shows, or movies that re-imagine the way we view women growing older and/or depict the way societal expectations of gender roles impact how we age. Submissions can be sent directly to the special issue editor, Aishwarya Ganapathiraju, aganapath@gmail.com or to Femspec.org.

31 May 2013. The Victorian Body Parts Conference, 14 Sept. 2013, Clerkenwell, UK. This conference seeks to enrich perspectives on the varied ways in which the Victorians approached anatomy, bringing together postgraduate, early career and established researchers to consider why body parts provided such an urgent and stimulating focus within the nineteenth-century cultural imagination, including explorations of mementos of the body and the culture of mourning, disability and the “substitution” of the body part, Darwin and bodily means of expression in science, “queer” the body, and preserving the body. Abstracts of 300 words to victorianbodyparts@gmail.com. <http://victorianbodyparts.wordpress.com/call-for-papers/>

3 June 2013. The Association for Gerontology in Higher Education welcomes nominations for its annual awards. Visit the AGHE website (<http://www.aghe.org/>) for additional details and instructions on all awards, honors and recognitions. Send nomination packets to Dr. Kate de Medeiros, Awards Committee Chair, c/o the AGHE office, 1220 L Street NW, Suite 901, Washington, DC 20005-4018. Contact Dr. de Medeiros with questions: 513-529-9648; demedekb@muohio.edu.

10 June 2013. The Northeast Popular Culture Association/American Culture Association (NEPCA) Annual Conference, 26-27 Oct. 2013, St. John Fisher College, Rochester, NY., is accepting abstracts for their conference. NEPCA Fall Conference information: <http://users.wpi.edu/~jphanlan/NEPCA.html>. NEPCA Conference Program Chair, Jennifer Tebbe-Grossman at jennifer.tebbe-grossman@mcphs.edu

14 June 2013. International Women, Ageing and Media Research Summer School, Cheltenham, UK, 23 – 24 July 2013. The 2013 International Women, Ageing and Media (WAM) Research Summer School will bring together international postgraduate researchers across disciplines whose research engages with women, ageing and issues of identity, representation, creativity, lived experience and popular cultural forms (popular music, film, television, literature and digital social media). Proposals for 20 minute presentations and panels submissions (up to 3 papers) are invited from doctoral students at any stage of their research and from any discipline. Please submit abstracts of 200 words/presentations (plus a 150-word rationale for panel proposals) to wambookings@glos.ac.uk. <http://insight.glos.ac.uk/researchmainpage/centres/wam/Pages/default.aspx>.

14 June 2013 – abstracts due; full papers due 13 Sept. Tenth annual Making Sense of Dying and Death conference, Athens, Greece, 7-9 Nov. 2013. Submissions welcome for presentations that produce conversations engaging historical, ethnographic, normative, literary, anthropological, philosophical, artistic, political, or other terms that elaborate a relationship between death and culture. Themes include Health Care Systems, Patient/Caregiver Relationships, End-of-Life topics, and Relationships between Death and Culture. Organizing Chairs, Nate Hinerman: nphinerman@usfca.edu and Rob Fisher: dd10@inter-disciplinary.net. <http://www.inter-disciplinary.net/probing-the-boundaries/making-sense-of/dying-and-death/call-for-papers/>

1 July 2013. The International Journal of Communication and Health is an on-line peer-reviewed journal interested in any aspect related to health communication. Original empirical qualitative or quantitative research, literature reviews, theoretical or methodological contributions, integrative reviews, meta-analyses, and comparative or historical aspects of health communication are welcome, particularly those of international relevance and those that reflect diverse theoretical and methodological approaches from all fields of communication, media, and health. http:// communicationandhealth.ro/submission-instructions/

1 Oct. 2013, Symposium Abstract submission deadline. The 22nd Nordic Congress of Gerontology, Gothenburg, Sweden, 25 – 28 May 2014. This congress emphasizes multidisciplinary aspects of aging within a life course perspective. The theme, Age Well - Challenges for Individuals and Society, highlights notions concerning functioning and well-being, despite the threats and challenges confronting aging individuals. What can we learn from research suggesting measures aiming at the reduction of the effects of compromised health and functioning, and how can we increase autonomy and societal participation? The main track of the congress includes sessions on multiple aspects of aging, from cell to society. In addition, there will be a sub-track for research and development (R&D) and applied gerontology. All main sessions are in English. www.22nkg.com

15 Oct. 2013. Association for Gerontology in Higher Education Graduate Student Paper Award applications, to recognize excellence in scholarly work by a student at an AGHE member institution who presents his or her work at the AGHE annual meeting. Nomination packets to Dr. Kate de Medeiros, Awards Committee Chair, c/o the AGHE office, 1220 L Street NW, Suite 901, Washington, DC 20005-4018. Contact Dr. de Medeiros with questions: 513-529-9648; demedekb@muohio.edu. www.aghe.org.

4 Nov. 2013. The PMLA Editorial Board invites essays that reflect on theories or representations of emotions in any period or cultural tradition. The coordinators of the special topic are Katharine Ann Jensen (Louisiana State Univ., Baton Rouge) and Miriam L. Wallace (New Coll. of Florida). For a complete description of the topic and for submission guidelines, please see www.mla.org/pmla_submitting.

30 Nov. 2013. Gender Work and Organization invites papers to explore the intersections, clashes and power differentials that emerge in the dialectical constitution of gender, age and ageing in the New Economy. We particularly welcome papers that focus on those individuals or groups who sit on the margins of organizations and organizing systems, either empirically, including the long-term unemployed or discouraged or groups often ignored in current accounts that implicitly equate 'work' with a traditional notion of paid, fixed labor or theoretically, such as a studies which challenge Western-centric conceptions of ageing. <https://www.jiscmail.ac.uk/cgi-bin/webadmin?A2=AGEINGBODYSDOCIETY;ad7b317.1302>

15 Dec. 2013. Jeunesse: Young People, Texts, Cultures invites essay submissions for a special issue addressing the many interpretations of consumption and their meanings in relation to youth texts and culture(s). They welcome essays that consider registers of race, class, gender, and disability.. <http://jeunessejournal.ca/index.php/yptc/announcement/view/7>

15 Jan. 2014. Journal of Lesbian Studies special issue on “Old Lesbians: Exploring Community, Kin, Friendship, and Well-being, edited by Peg Cruikshank and Sharon Raphael. Proposals or completed articles, 10-14 pages, double spaced, APA style. Review of current work or annotated bibliography on appropriate topics also welcome and art or photography. Personal narratives with issues analysis considered. Authors of scholarly or activist submissions will use a feminist, race, class and age conscious perspective. Analysis of both internalized and institutional ageism encouraged. Who comprises old lesbians’ (over sixty) community ideally and in reality? How do variables of community, friendship, or kinship interact with late-life health? Send work to smraphael@aol.com and pc26@myfairpoint.net.

15 Jan. 2014, abstract submission deadline. The 22nd Nordic Congress of Gerontology, Gothenburg, Sweden, 25 – 28 May 2014. This congress emphasizes multidisciplinary aspects of aging within a life course perspective. The theme, Age Well - Challenges for Individuals and Society, highlights notions concerning functioning and well-being, despite the threats and challenges confronting aging individuals. What can we learn from research suggesting measures aiming at the reduction of the effects of compromised health and functioning, and how can we increase autonomy and societal participation? The main track of the congress includes sessions on multiple aspects of aging, from cell to society. In addition, there will be a sub-track for research and development (R&D) and applied gerontology. All main sessions are in English. www.22nkg.com

Oceanide, a fairly new journal, publishes on popular culture in its broadest sense, and might be a useful place to disseminate some Aging Studies and Cultural Gerontology research: <http://oceanide.netne.net/en/board.php>

3. Conferences, Events, and Webinars: all future listings are retained; (new items are in bold)

23 April 2013. MICRA Public Lecture: Holding Back the Years: Living to 150 - Ethical and Social Challenges taking place at the University of Manchester from 6:30-8:00 p.m.. Speakers: Dr Aubrey de Grey, Professor Jason L. Powell, and Dr Sarah Chan. Dr Aubrey de Grey, author of Ending Aging: The Rejuvenation Breakthroughs That Could Reverse Human Aging in Our Lifetime will present his views on the ethics of radically postponing age-related ill health.

<http://events.manchester.ac.uk/event/event:b3x-hejqyb9g-9thqib/micra-public-lecture-holding-back-the-years-living-to-150-ethical-and-social-challenges>

24-25 April 2013. The Open University research methods workshops: Identifying and interrogating patterning and Using theory in qualitative data analysis. Both workshops will be held at the Open University and will be facilitated by Professor of Health Care and qualitative research expert Rosaline Barbour. These workshops are offered as stand-alone sessions or can be booked as a 2-day package. They are ideal for PhD Students in Social Sciences or Health Sciences, or for research active health care professionals, practitioners and researchers who are new to qualitative data analysis. www.open.ac.uk/hsc-qualitative-research-methods

25 Apr. 2013. Ageing and disability: 'writing in' gender and sexuality. Life conference; Webinar attendance possible. Lancaster Univ., UK. Opportunities, challenges & tensions: linking the ageing and disability rights agendas. No cost to attend. Registration required: <http://www.lancs.ac.uk/shm/research/seminars/esrc-seminar.php>

23-27 June 2013. The 20th IAGG World Congress of Gerontology and Geriatrics held at the Coex (Convention and Exhibition Center), in Seoul, Korea. "The World Congress of the IAGG is the world's largest international congress. Here, leading gerontologists, geriatrics scholars, policy decision-makers, professional activists, related companies, and researchers get together and share recent discoveries and study results." <http://www.iagg2013.org/Eng/attend-1.php>

24-26 June 2013. The Culture, Health and Wellbeing International Conference is for academics, policy makers and practitioners in the health and culture sectors. It is organized in partnership with the Royal Society for Public Health (RSPH) and on behalf of the National Alliance for Arts, Health and Wellbeing. The conference is a unique opportunity to share knowledge, experience and skills. You will learn about the latest research, innovative practice and new approaches to delivering health and wellbeing outcomes through engagement with the arts and culture. www.culturehealthwellbeing.org.uk

27-30 June 2013. 2nd International Conference on Ageing in a Foreign Land will be held at the Bedford Park campus of Flinders University, located in Adelaide, South Australia. Ageing in a Foreign Land will address the needs of the migrant diaspora with regard to ageing and health, service provision, language and cultural identity, issues of Greek and other Culturally and Linguistically Diverse communities in Australia and overseas. <http://flinders.edu.au/ehl/conferences/greek/research2013/>

29-30 June 2013. The Centre for Death and Society Conference, "New Economies of Death: The Commodification of Dying, the Dead Body, and Bereavement" at the Bath Royal Literary & Scientific Institute, Bath, England. The 2013 CDAS conference will explore the constantly evolving relationship between commodification and human death with an aim to bring together the fragmented research and knowledge in this area. <http://store.bath.ac.uk/browse/product.asp?catid=21&modid=2&compid=1>

23 – 24 July 2013. International Women, Ageing and Media Research Summer School, Cheltenham, UK. The 2013 International Women, Ageing and Media (WAM) Research Summer

School will bring together international postgraduate researchers across disciplines whose research engages with women, ageing and issues of identity, representation, creativity, lived experience and popular cultural forms (popular music, film, television, literature and digital social media). <http://insight.glos.ac.uk/researchmainpage/centres/wam/Pages/default.aspx>.

5-8 September 2013. The 11th biennial “death, dying and disposal conference: Where theory meets practice” will be held at The Open University, Milton Keynes. The theme of this innovative, multidisciplinary conference will be ‘Theory meets practice’ and papers are invited from practitioners, professionals and academics from a range of disciplines and interests on this theme. <http://www8.open.ac.uk/health-and-social-care/main/research/research-events/death-dying-and-disposal-11>

9 – 11 September 2013. The 2nd International Conference on Age-Friendly Cities will be held in Quebec City under the theme of Living and Aging Together in our Community. Bilingual contents, both in French and English, will be available throughout the conference. Simultaneous translation will also be available. All conference content and activities will be organized around four thematic tracks: age-friendly cities as social innovation; the role of various stakeholders; the interface between built and social environments; and an evaluation of age-friendly city initiatives. <http://www.afc2013.ca/en/>

11- 13 Sept. 2013. British Society of Gerontology's 42nd Annual Conference, 'Global Ageing: Implications for Individuals and Society', at Keble College, Oxford. A pre-conference workshop hosted by the ERA-BSG Network (Emerging Researchers on Ageing) is being held on 10th September 2013. For further information and to register please see www.ageing.ox.ac.uk/bsg

14 Sept. 2013. The Victorian Body Parts Conference, Clerkenwell, UK. This conference seeks to enrich perspectives on the varied ways in which the Victorians approached anatomy, bringing together postgraduate, early career and established researchers to consider why body parts provided such an urgent and stimulating focus within the nineteenth-century cultural imagination, including explorations of mementos of the body and the culture of mourning, disability and the “substitution” of the body part, Darwin and bodily means of expression in science, “queer” the body, and preserving the body. <http://victorianbodyparts.wordpress.com/call-for-papers/>

2-3 Oct 2013. “Transfers Across Generations: Wealth and Poverty.” Prague. The purpose of this two-day 'Ideas Event' is to provide a free thinking discussion forum to create and develop innovative research ideas and collaborations. The 2 day event is free to attend and supported by funds from the ESRC. Participants will have to cover their own travel and accommodation costs. <http://integragenet.st-andrews.ac.uk/>.

17 - 19 Oct 2013. CAG2013: Aging...from Cells to Society, in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, the 42nd Annual Scientific and Educational Meeting. Join for Canada’s premier multidisciplinary conference for those interested in individual and population aging. This year's conference theme underlines the importance of multi- and interdisciplinary perspectives on aging as the conference explores the impacts and changes of aging, from our bodies to society. <http://www.cagacg.ca/page.aspx?menu=86&app=345&cat1=876&tp=2&lk=no>

20-21 Oct 2013. Aging with Passion & Purpose: Aging Well in the Age of Technology will take place at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. The purpose of the fourth biennial conference on aging - Aging with Passion and Purpose: Aging Well in the Age of Technology - is to bring together professionals, administrators, service-providers, researchers, educators and students, caregivers, older adults, baby boomers, and others to gain awareness of how technology, in all of its forms, can impact the lives of individuals as they age by maximizing independence and quality of life. The conference experience will provide attendees opportunities to share and learn knowledge and deepen their understanding of possibilities and also to connect with persons who have similar interests and goals in the field of aging.
<http://www.unomaha.edu/gero/conference.php>

26-27 Oct 2013. The Northeast Popular Culture Association/American Culture Association (NEPCA) Annual Conference, St. John Fisher College, Rochester, NY:
<http://users.wpi.edu/~jphanlan/NEPCA.html>. NEPCA Conference Program Chair, Jennifer Tebbe-Grossman at jennifer.tebbe-grossman@mcphs.edu

29 – 30 Oct. 2013. “Mirror Mirror: Representations and reflections on age and ageing,” at the London College of Fashion, will bring together artists, academics, theatre and film makers and older people to explore age and ageing.
<http://newsevents.arts.ac.uk/event/mirror-mirror-representations-and-reflections-on-age-and-ageing/>

1-3 November 2013. The conference-wide theme for the 2013 PAMLA conference is “Stages of Life: Age, Identity, and Culture.” The theme is intended to allow special sessions dealing with all aspects of the intersection of Age, Identity, and Culture, from Childhood Studies to Aging Studies. Sessions might explore such issues as the analysis of “age” as depicted in literary and cultural products; children’s literature, film, and culture; childhood, adolescence, adulthood, and old age as constructed or performed identities; the ways that literature and media depict and construct concepts of age, in much the same way that ethnic, Marxist, and gender studies explore ethnicity, class, sexuality, and gender formation. <http://www.pamla.org/2013/>

7 -9 Nov. 2013. Tenth annual Making Sense of Dying and Death conference, Athens, Greece. Presentations engage historical, ethnographic, normative, literary, anthropological, philosophical, artistic, political, or other terms that elaborate a relationship between death and culture. Themes include Health Care Systems, Patient/Caregiver Relationships, End-of-Life topics, and Relationships between Death and Culture. Organizing Chairs, Nate Hinerman: nphinerman@usfca.edu and Rob Fisher: dd10@inter-disciplinary.net. <http://www.inter-disciplinary.net/probing-the-boundaries/making-sense-of/dying-and-death/call-for-papers/>

8-9 November 2013. The 2013 Aging and Society: An Interdisciplinary Conference held in Chicago, Illinois, USA. This conference is “an international forum for the discussion of a rapidly growing segment of the population world-wide. The process of aging, its accompanying individual, family, community, national, and international impacts, and the social and cultural perspectives which surround it, provide a rich background from which to base community dialogue.” <http://agingandsociety.com/the-conference>

20-24 November 2013. The 66th Annual Scientific Meeting facilitated by the Gerontological Society of America will take place in New Orleans, Louisiana. GSA's Annual Scientific Meeting brings together more than 4,000 of the brightest minds in the field of aging. This meeting is the premier gathering of gerontologists from both the United States and around the world. <http://www.geron.org/annual-meeting/2013-annual-scientific-meeting>

25 – 28 May 2014. The 22nd Nordic Congress of Gerontology, Gothenburg, Sweden. This congress emphasizes multidisciplinary aspects of aging within a life course perspective. The theme, Age Well - Challenges for Individuals and Society, highlights notions concerning functioning and well-being, despite the threats and challenges confronting aging individuals. What can we learn from research suggesting measures aiming at the reduction of the effects of compromised health and functioning, and how can we increase autonomy and societal participation? The main track of the congress includes sessions on multiple aspects of aging, from cell to society. In addition, there will be a sub-track for research and development (R&D) and applied gerontology. All main sessions are in English. www.22nkg.com

4. Websites, Articles, and Reports

“Power of art: Can creative activities help us stay young?” 18 Mar. 2013. <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/magazine-21806196>

Ageing Well in Communities: A Toolkit for Planning, Engagement & Action, by the Center for Civic Partnerships: Eighty million members of the boomer generation (born between 1946–1964) have reached or are approaching the traditional retirement age of 65. These boomers overwhelmingly want to age in place. Yet few communities are prepared to meet the needs of older residents, or to engage these residents in civic life. This toolkit gives local governments the resources they need to successfully plan for aging well in their communities. <http://www.civicpartnerships.org/docs/services/CHCC/aging-well-toolkit.htm>

Ash, Margi Brown. “Ageism: Ten Ways to Fight It.” Rain and Thunder Journal (2012): n. pag. Web. 19 April 2013.

“We live in an ageist culture. Women (much more than men) regularly face ageist expectations and comments....But how do we even start to fight against ageism?” <http://www.4change.com.au/2013/03/19/thank-you-roxanne-friendenfels-this-is-a-wonderful-summary-of-fighting-ageism/>

Abrahms, Sally. “Kids in Assisted Living: Everyone Wins.” Changing Aging with Dr. Bill Thomas: Exploring Life Beyond Adulthood. Web. 19 April 2013.

Sally Abrahms, AARP Blogs, posted: “There’s a children’s book series that has come out in the last year about a young girl named Carlyn and her visits to her grandmother in assisted living. It debunks the stereotypes..." Read more here: <http://changingaging.org/blog/kids-in-assisted-living-everyone-wins/>

Bennett, Ronni. "Facebook/Hatebook." Changing Aging with Dr. Bill Thomas: Exploring Life Beyond Adulthood. Web. 19 April 2013. "In my earliest interaction with Facebook in 2007, one of the first things I discovered were dozens of sites devoted to hating old people. Nothing has changed since." Read more here: <http://changingaging.org/blog/facebookhatebook/>

Blitchok, Amy. "Technology For Aging in Place." Changingaging.org. 12 Apr. 2013. <http://changingaging.org/blog/technology-for-aging-in-place/>

Gullette, Margaret Morganroth. "Florence Nightingale--Dammit--Still Shows the Way. In Caregiving, Not as Much as we Think has Changed since the 19th Century." 28 Mar. 2013. www.womensenews.org. www.womensenews.org/story/health/130327/florence-nightingale-dammit-still-shows-the-way#.UVQ-5hycf4U. On the caregiving crisis for women.

Gullette, Margaret Morganroth. "Crisis in jobs for prime-age workers in the US: Not old, but 'too old.'" 27 Mar. 2013. Al Jazeera. <http://www.aljazeera.com/indepth/opinion/2013/03/201332784418929833.html>. "The loss of midlife jobs is not just an artifact of the endless recession, but a long-term fact of the American economy."

Gullette, Margaret Morganroth. Review of Michael Haneke's Amour <http://www.guardian.co.uk/film/filmblog/2013/feb/28/amour-advert-for-euthanasia>

5. Jobs

No closing date listed. Assistant Professor of Gerontology, University of Nebraska, Omaha. We seek candidates with demonstrated ability in teaching and a strong research agenda and publications in highly ranked journals. The candidate must also demonstrate an interest in working with doctoral students and a commitment to doctoral education. We are seeking a faculty member who can teach courses including Introduction to Gerontology, Psychology of Adult Development and Aging, and courses in research methods. Applicants must hold a PhD in Gerontology, Psychology, Human Development or a related field.

<http://www.unomaha.edu/humanresources/>

Open until filled. Research Assistant. Miami University Scripps Gerontology Center Opening. The University has a new Research Assistant position open to work with their Opening Minds through Art (OMA) program (www.scrippsoma.org). They are looking for a qualified person to support the OMA program, which is an intergenerational art program for people with dementia; its mission is to build bridges across age and cognitive barriers through art.

<https://www.miamiujobs.com/applicants/jsp/shared/frameset/Frameset.jsp?time=1366389723187>

6 May 2013. Senior research positions in Catalonia (Spain). A Catalan Foundation in Spain has opened 15 senior research permanent positions in different universities and research groups.
<http://www.icrea.es/web/Public/ViewPublicCall.aspx?IdPublicCall=37&tipus=1>

About this listserv

To subscribe or unsubscribe, go to <http://www.agingstudies.org/HTML/AgeStudiesListservMailings.Shtml>.

Names and email addresses are never sold or shared with anyone.

Many thanks to Nicole Casperson for her work in creating this mailing!

Past mailings from the listserve editor are archived at <http://www.agingstudies.org/HTML/ListservMailings.Shtml>